

FARMERS LOCK YOUR GATES!

Reasons for Farmers to beware of Hydraulic Fracturing

- Water will be at risk of contamination, regardless if you have a gas well on your property or not.
- You, your family, your staff, even your livestock - may be subjected to fumes and dust that could affect your health irreversibly.
- Your property value may fall.
- You may be subjected to intolerable noise levels by vehicle convoys and heavy machinery operating 24/7.
- You may lose control of your day-to-day farming business. Some of your land will be taken out of production. Your farming operations cannot co-exist with the Shale Gas Industry.
- Your most important asset - your soil - could be at risk of permanent damage from chemical and saline spills.
- Your groundwater supply may diminish.
- Your farm and your lifestyle may be adversely changed - for decades. The experience of the majority of landholders who have dealt with Shale Gas companies operating on their land has been overwhelmingly negative and greatly outweighs any payments.
